

Our Covenant

Mountain Light Members make a Covenant with each other to:

Promise to promote the welfare of our congregation as a unified community through:

- + Accepting and respecting the diversity of all individuals;
- + Committing our support with time, talent, and treasure;
- + Having realistic expectations of each other and supporting one another with kindness;
- + Providing an exceptional home for spiritual growth;
- + Communicating mindfully, listening and speaking with compassion, and always assuming goodwill;
- + Looking for and creating opportunities to have fun and share the gift of laughter;
- + Staying together in community through good times and bad;
- + Ministering to each other in times of need, and
- + Being ever aware that within the greater community we are all representatives of Mountain Light and Unitarian Universalist ideals.

We pledge to honor our covenant with a guiding principle of love and forgiveness to ourselves and others in our efforts to uphold these ideals.

Our Covenant is a living document, not creed or dogma set in stone.
