We, the congregation of Mountain Light Unitarian Universalist Church, envision a church

- whose membership accepts and includes people from diverse backgrounds, welcoming all faiths, genders, sexual orientations, income levels, occupations, ethnicities, and ages.
- which promotes the growth and development of children, youth, and adults by providing a variety of religious education and fellowship opportunities and individual, small group, and all-church participation in and support of social action and environmental activities that promote our UU principles.
- which provides Sunday services that offer a combination of spiritual, intellectual, and educational programming, incorporating moments of silence, reflection, and feeling; music; and stimulating speakers on a diversity of topics in an array of presentations.
- where it is good to be with like-minded folks in a community of supporters and seekers whose values are expressed in a dogma-free religion.
